Advancing Racial Equity in the Public Health Workforce

Economic mobility and professional development are the investments needed to achieve health equity for all people. BARHII's recent assessment of the Bay Area's workforce needs and capacities led to a deeper understanding of the opportunities to advance racial equity within our counties public health systems.

Guest speaker Kevin Barnett is the Co-Director of the California Future Health Workforce Commission and a Senior Investigator at the Public Health Institute. He has led research and fieldwork in hospital community benefit and health workforce diversity at PHI for over two decades, working with hospitals, government agencies, and community stakeholders across the country. Kevin's current work with the Alignment of Governance and Leadership in Healthcare builds population health knowledge among hospital leadership and aligns health sector investments to address health inequities in low-income communities.

The Objectives for this meeting are:

- Review BARHII workforce assessment completed with San Francisco State
- Identify hiring and promotion strategies to advance racial equity within Local Health Departments
- Explore how to reduce internal occupational barriers for women and people of color
